About the Performer

Visiting piano professor Mi-Eun Kim was raised throughout the midwestern United States and has performed on stages across the country, as well as in Europe and Asia. Mi-Eun is a prizewinner of the 2015 Liszt-Garrison Competition's Liszt Award, the 2010 Corpus Christi solo prize, the International Institute for Young Musicians and Missouri Southern International Competitions and Young Arts. Recent festival appearances include the Liberec International Violin Academy, Piano Summer at New Paltz, Gijón Piano Festival, and Art of the Piano at Cincinnati College-Conservatory of Music. She is a faculty member at Center Stage Strings, a University of Michigan MPulse program.

Mi-Eun completed her master's and doctoral studies in Piano Performance at University of Michigan and is currently pursuing a specialist degree with Logan Skelton focusing on the complete Beethoven sonata cycle. She also holds a B.A. in History through the Columbia-Juilliard Exchange program.
