Clinician Biographies

As a composer, multi-instrumentalist, vocalist, and unique interpreter of the jazz tradition, Camille Thurman is quickly becoming one of the standard bearers for the form, making a considerable and dynamic contribution to the legacy of jazz while paying tribute to its heroes.

Her compositions were featured and performed by her quartet in the ASCAP/The Kennedy Center "Songwriters: The Next Generation" showcase as well as the Greenwich School of Music "Uncharted" Series. Camille has appeared on BET's "Black Girls Rock" as the saxophonist and flutist in the All-Star Band. Equally adept as a player and a singer, and recognized for her compositional abilities as well, Thurman has also earned accolades from the media, from Jazz Times to Downbeat, All About Jazz to the New York Times, NPR to Sirius XM Satellite Radio, BET to Jazz Night In America.

Thurman toured internationally two seasons with the world-renowned Jazz At Lincoln Center with Wynton Marsalis as a saxophonist, becoming the first woman in 30 years to tour and perform full time (2018-2020). After guesting with the JALCO on several shows, including a tribute to Ella Fitzgerald, and again during the 2017-2018 season as a featured vocalist for the world premiere of the historic work, "The Every Fonky Lowdown," Thurman was invited to play the tenor saxophone chair for the past two seasons, which covered four continents. When she is not touring with the JALCO, Thurman is on the road leading her band, The Camille Thurman Quartet. She is also a featured artist with the Darrell Green Trio, where she has performed at the Kennedy Center, Alice Tully Hall, and numerous respected international jazz festivals and venues.

The dynamic musician is endorsed by D'Addario Woodwinds & Co. for reeds, Conn-Selmer Inc. for saxophones and Key Leaves saxophone products.

Camille Thurman's appearance at the Loyola Jazz Ensemble Festival is sponsored by a generous grant from the Nathan and Priscilla Gordon Foundation.

Oakland-raised Darrell Green has been playing drums for as long as he can remember. When he was 7 years old, Green landed his first professional gig at Cosmopolitan Baptist Church. Four years later he matriculated in the Young Musicians Program at UC Berkeley and apprenticed under Kent Reed. During high school Green was a section leader in both the Young People's Symphony Orchestra and the Bay Area Wind Symphony. Additionally, he played drums in the Castlemont High School Jazz Band and backed the Castleers choir. After high school, Green attended the California Institute of the Arts on a scholarship, where he majored in jazz studies with an emphasis on African percussion.

In 2005 Green landed a scholarship at the Manhattan School of Music, where he began a comprehensive study of jazz performance. Shortly thereafter he began working with David Weiss, saxophonists JD Allen and Sherman Irby, and the Myron Waldon/Daron Barrett Quartet. He became a sought-after musician for both session work and live shows.

Green has toured with James Hurt, James Zollar, Brad Leali, Jesse Davis, and Stacy Dillard. Currently, he is touring with Pharoah Sanders, Dr. Lonnie Smith, Sherman Irby, Steve Turre, Faye Carol, Lavay Smith and the Red Hot Skillet Lickers, and Jeremy Pelt. He is one of the most in-demand drummers in New York, Europe, and Japan.

Born and raised in New Orleans, Wayne Maureau has been a member of the New Orleans music scene for 20 years. Known for his diverse skills he is called upon to back artists, both local and international, in all genres of music. Throughout his career, he has performed across the United States and overseas and is featured on over 20 recordings. At present, he performs regularly with New Orleans Blues and Funk legend

Walter "Wolfman" Washington, Organica, Chris Mule' and the Perpetrators, The Jimmy Carpenter Band, Spyboy, and Los Otros Latin Band. He has also released two recordings of his original compositions and arrangements. Wayne has served as adjunct faculty percussion instructor at Loyola University, and Delgado Community College since 1997 and is a member of the Loyola Faculty Jazz Septet. In 2005 he published "The Multi-Stylet Drummer", a method book based on his approach to the drumset. His career has earned him endorsements with Fortune Drums, Aquarian Drumheads and Bosphorus Cymbals.

Amina Scott, born and raised in Oakland, CA, is an upright and electric bassist, composer, and arranger. In 2012, Amina relocated to New Orleans, LA where she studied at Loyola University New Orleans under the tutelage of Allen Nisbet, Roland Guerin, and Ed Wise. She graduated from Loyola in 2016 with a Bachelor of Music in Music Industry Studies.

In 2017, Amina began her studies at Florida State University (Tallahassee, FL) studying with Rodney Jordan, Leon Anderson, Marcus Roberts, and Bill Peterson. Additionally in 2017, Amina joined the New Orleans Jazz Orchestra led by Adonis Rose. With them, she has performed at festivals such as the New Orleans Jazz & Heritage Festival, Ascona Jazz Festival (Ascona, Switzerland), and the Detroit Jazz Festival as well as with the small group, NOJO 7, performing at venues and festivals such as the St. Lucia Jazz Festival (St. Lucia) and the Exit Zero Jazz Festival (Cape May, NJ).

Now based in New Orleans, Amina has performed with various artists including Steve Turre, Wess “Warm Daddy” Anderson, Nicholas Payton, David Murray, Jamison Ross, Nnenna Freelon, Christian Scott Atunde Adjuah, and more. She has also performed with the Tallahassee Symphony Orchestra (Tallahassee, FL) and the Albany Symphony Orchestra (Albany, GA). In 2017, Amina was a fellow in the Steans Institute of Music Jazz Program (Ravinia, IL). She also acts as a band leader with her trio and the up and coming fusion band, Noruz.

Don Vappie

Don Vappie, musician / composer / educator, is the 2021 Steve Martin Banjo Prize Winner and will be inducted into the Banjo Hall of Fame in September 2022. In addition, he has received awards for his contributions to the preservation of New Orleans Creole Culture through music and film. He has produced 7 of his own albums, co-produced and starred in a PBS documentary, performed as a featured artist with orchestras on movie and television soundtracks, and at concerts and festivals around the world. Vappie’s highly regarded unique and original tenor banjo style is equal only to his love of his Creole heritage and tradition.

Loyola Jazz Studies

Loyola University has the oldest jazz program in the city of New Orleans.

The degree program features courses in improvisation, composition, arranging, history, theory, and music industry as well as participation in jazz ensembles and combos. Faculty are selected from the finest musicians New Orleans has to offer. They are extremely active in the local, national and international jazz venues. Famous alumni of the program include Ellis Marsalis, Victor Goines and Rick Margitza.
